When Kiwis fly

Six New Zealand companies – AAPT, Datacom, Jade, Navman, Synergy and Oxygen – make it to the Australia/New Zealand 25 in the latest MIS Australia Strategic 100. The companies in the list are the 25 most strategically important IT vendors in the region, according to a judging panel that includes IDC's Phillip Allen and Gartner's Craig Baty.

The New Zealand edition of MIS Strategic 100, which profiles the top global and local IT vendors CIOs should keep abreast of, will be published in May 2006.
